Don Friedman Selected for Research Job

Dr. Don G. Friedman, son of Mrs. Mary M. Friedman, of 18410 Hawthorne Ave., has been named a research associate in the Travelers Weather Research Center, according to J. Doyle DeWitt, president of the Travelers Insurance Co. He has just completed a year's study in statistics under a Rockefeller Foundation Scholarship at the University of Chicago.

There, his research activities dealt with the application of statistical techniques and high speed electronic computers to the prediction of expected rainfall amounts over river drainage basins. He also studied atmospheric turbulence and the utilization of weather data to building and residence design.

Reports Theft of Plane Equipment

Eugene Hathaway, 1270 Pacific Coast Highway, Harbor City, reported to city police Saturday that someone entered his airplane and took a microphone and headphones, while the plane was parked at the Torrance Municipal Airport.

Hathaway placed value of the stolen articles at $35.

Burglar Uses Phone

A burglar, who entered a service station at 1851 Sepulveda Blvd., recently, took only a can of auto polish but stopped long enough to make a long distance telephone call. Local authorities are investigating the burglary.

EAST MEETS WEST . . . Lloyd Newcomer, left, on teacher exchange at El Camino College from the University of Southern California, and Sandra Sherwood, ECC student body vice president, and Gerhardus A. M. Snijders, an exchange teacher from Holland, pause for introductions on the college campus. Newcomer is a speech instructor, while Snijders teaches—of all things—English.

Exchange Teachers from Hawaii, Holland on El Camino Faculty

"I like America, especially California, and I think the campus is beautiful!" This, after two weeks' observation, is the opinion of Gerhardus A. M. Snijders, an exchange instructor from Holland, now teaching courses in English at El Camino college. His views are substantiated by Lloyd Newcomer, speech instructor, on exchange this year from the University of Hawaii. Snijders has made a rapid orientation to his American surroundings. One of his first steps was to convert his initials into a nickname, "Gan," and to Americanize the spelling of his name, now listed on faculty rolls as Snijders.

Football is confusing. After viewing his first football game this week, Snijders requested more time before expressing an opinion of the sport. He was heard to mutter, however, "too many whistles, too many meetings, too many people." The meetings, it was explained by a faculty friend, referred to the gridiron custom of huddles.

The Dutch scholar, on exchange with John Hartley, El Camino college English instructor, is awaiting the arrival of his wife from Holland next month. He is postponing sight-seeing trips in his newly purchased automobile until he becomes thoroughly familiar with his duties, he says. The headmaster of a secondary school in Holland before leaving that country, Snijders says of El Camino, "The whole place has the stamp of President Forrest G. Murdoch on it—the stamp of honesty, sincerity, and friendship."

Here For Degree. Hawaii's representative to El Camino, Lloyd Newcomer, traded jobs, homes, and cars with Stanley F. Wilson, local counselor and speech instructor. The Newcomers are residents of Lanikai, Hawaii. An assistant professor of speech at the University of Hawaii, Newcomer is teaching speech classes at

Wing Named Director for Riviera Group

Laurence C. Wing, 516 Via de Oro, replaces C. Willard Key on the board of directors for the Hollywood Riviera Community Assn. It was announced this week he was elected at their monthly meeting, following the resignation of Key, due to his moving away. Other members of this important association are E. L. Callahan, president of the association, and also president of Huntington Land Co.; Conrad, William A. Mason, and Paul Koehl of San Marino, secretary. The group meets monthly at the San Marino offices of the Huntington Land Co.

Mrs. Fred Weir, 905 Calle Miramar, was honored with a baby shower, held Sept. 30 at the home of Mrs. Claude Ferrel, 714 Calle de Arboles. Mrs. Ferrel was hostess at the affair. The theme for the shower was pink and blue, with two cradles holding the center of attention. One cradle was decorated in blue crepe and the other in pink, and the two marked "his" and "hers," in anticipation of the birth of twins which she expects. Pink asters decorated the serving table which held a large white sheet cake, decorated in pink and blue rosebuds with a stork and booties design intermingled.

Highlight of the evening after the shower of gifts was a novelty game played by the guests. Each guest brought her own baby snapshots and those attending tried to identify as many of the pictures as possible with the guests present at the shower. Attending were Misses Frank Callahan, Clifford Tunis, Arthur Dikis, Richard Dugan, Gay Eustace, Donald Hauser, John Redwidge, Carl Rogers, John Edwidge, Jamie Woodson, Arlis Wyatt, Dee Garwood, Verne Cooper, and the honored guest.

Mrs. Thorsten Burman, 315 Calle de Andalucia, is home after a week's stay at San Pedro Community Hospital, undergoing surgery. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erik Burman, who traveled south from Seattle, the Burman children and do those many helpful things that parents can do in time of need. Lynn, 13; Tommy, 8, and, of course, Pappy Burman, are all happy to have Mom home again.

CANNED PRODUCTS. Americans used an average of 185 million cans of products packed under pressure so they could be served out during the production year 1954.
